Kyivstar Launches Locally Hosted AI Platform In Its Cloud

29.09.2025

KYIV, Ukraine, Sept. 29, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Kyivstar Group Ltd (Nasdaq: KYIV; KYIVW) ("Kyivstar"), a national digital communications operator, today announced it has begun integrating artificial intelligence (AI) technologies into its proprietary cloud platform, Kyivstar Cloud.

From now on, Ukrainian businesses and government institutions will have the ability to deploy AI solutions directly within a domestic cloud environment.

"Integrating AI into Kyivstar Cloud is not just a technological upgrade — it's a significant step forward in enhancing Ukraine's digital resilience," commented Kostiantyn Vechir, Business Development Director of Kyivstar's Corporate Market. "AI creates new opportunities for automation, analytics and innovation across industries.".

Key capabilities of the New AI Modules include:

- real-time big data analytics powered by machine learning;
- business process automation, including optimized data storage, search, and analytics systems;
- deployment of custom generative AI models tailored to specific business needs; and
- access to ready-to-use AI tools (e.g., chatbots, content generators, recommendation engines) without the need for an in-house AI team.

These AI tools are now available to all Kyivstar Cloud clients. The company also offers expert consultations with cloud architects to help businesses adapt AI models to their specific requirements.
